SGT. KEITH WENZEL after a tour with the U.S. Marine Corps, Sergeant Keith Wenzel began his career in law enforcement as a patrol officer with mid-size police department. Four years later, in 1982, Keith was hired onto the Dallas, TX PD and worked various assignments including patrol, covert deployment, and as an academy advisor. During this time between a career and family, he graduated from the Dallas Baptist University with a bachelor's degree. In 1987 he was selected for the SWAT team where he stayed until he was promoted to the rank of sergeant in 1993. As a supervisor, Keith held leadership positions in patrol, deployment, and the bike unit. He supervised patrol officers in five of the six patrol divisions in Dallas. In 2007, Keith left patrol and began supervising in-service training at the Dallas Police Academy, developing new curriculum for his 3600 member department. His responsibilities included vehicle operation, defensive tactics, reality based training and use of force. In February 2011, Keith went back to the streets where he supervises officers in the downtown area. As an instructor, Keith has spoken nationally on police subjects such as Leadership, Vehicle Operations, Generational Management, and Street Survival Skills. His course "Beyond the Cones" is a one-of-a-kind course designed to prevent police crash deaths and at the same time protect agencies against the rising cost of civil lawsuits.

CHIEF KENT WILLIAMS is the owner of Breach Point Consulting and has been involved in law enforcement as a police officer for over 26 years; he presently serves as Chief of Police for a Chicago area police department. He is the 2-term President of the Northern Illinois Critical Incident Stress Management Team where he has served as a peer supporter for 13 years. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy, University of Southern California's Delinquency Control Institute, and the Police Executive Research Forum's Senior Management Institute for Police, at Boston University. He served as a Tactical Commander on a regional SWAT team serving 60 Chicago collar communities. He has taught extensively on various courses related to leadership and organizational change. Additionally he has taught for over 23 years on topics including use of force, weapons and tactics.

Most recently through the development of Breach Point Consulting, he has launched several courses being taught on a national level, which are based upon the principles of Servant Leadership and how simple shifts in organizational perspective can profoundly reduce the stress, frustration and open anger expressed throughout the typical law enforcement agency. At very little cost to police organizations, Chief Williams has been teaching leaders how to negate the toxic work climate, which can be caused by what he has termed "The Universal Police Frustrations". These misunderstood stressors are created by the unique combination of an effective police personality coupled with an efficient police culture. The mix, if not fully understood, can be very destructive to an agency's morale and reputation. Additionally, it predictably places officers at risk for failed careers, marriages and relationships. He sums this situation up by calling it, "THE CAUSTIC RISKS of PERFORMING WELL in LAW ENFORCEMENT."
