

Repeating Classes

If a student repeats a course the new grade is used to calculate the cumulative grade point average. All classes attempted are shown on the permanent record, but the final cumulative grade point average reflects only the more recent of the two grades.

In changing from one major to another, a student may be scheduled to repeat all classes in which he/she received less than a "C-" grade. The cumulative grade point average in the new major includes all repeated courses and lists all courses attempted.
