

Graduates Not in the Labor Market

Thirty-three (33) of the 415 graduates who responded to the survey were not available for employment. Of this number, eight (8) are continuing their education and 18 are not working due to family responsibilities. Three (3) graduates are not in the labor market due to medical reasons and four (4) for “other” reasons.

Figure 3
Reasons Not in the Labor Market

