Q & A for Charging Books Against Financial Aid

Where can I find additional information the book charge process?

- There is a student hand out available in your campus bookstore

I have all kinds of bookstore holds on MyWITC Student Center Account. What do these mean?

There are several bookstore notifications you may see under the hold section of your MyWITC. These are listed below and do not negatively impact your account in any way. These indicators are just notifying a student of their status in the bookstore charge process and are cleared after the book charge window closes for the term. If a student does not wish to charge their books against financial aid, they may just disregard these indicators. Indicators that are tied to the book charge process:
