HEALTH STATUS

Students may not participate in their professional practice experience (PPE) if he/she has a communicable disease or if there is likelihood of transmission (such as fever, open lesions, skin infection, conjunctivitis, or acute respiratory infection). Students are expected to assume responsibility for protecting themselves and others from health and safety hazards.

Extended PPE absences may result in course failure. If the student is absent for two consecutive PPE days due to illness, the student may be asked to provide a physician's written statement that the student's health is acceptable to return the PPE site.
